That may do it.

Who would have believed a few years since that New Hampshire, then as much under the power of sixtery as my Southern State could ever be forced into the adoption of any measure contemplating the restriction of alayery. The entire "democracy of that State professed an absolute horror of abolitionism; of anything that tended to repress the inforce of anything that tended to repress the inforce of anything that tended to repress the inforce of alayery. One of her Representatives a Congress introduced the famous, or rather infamous, of a Resolutions. They stood by slavery so long as hey gained by advocating it: they profess now to desire its limitation, because they find that doctrine too popular for their resistance. Let them no longer be trusted.

The Wilnor Proviso will be struck out in the Scoate. The bill granting the $3,000,000 will then a passed and sent to the House for concurrence there, where its fate is doubtful.

The House adopted the hour of 3 to morrow for the termination of the debate on the Army bill. On Wednesday the new Tariff bill will be taken up—as fate will be doubtful, but the probabilities are sentiled.
